Letter-Press Printing in every variety. J. ALFRED NOVELLO would respectfully announce, that having a carefully-organized Printing Office, he is enabled to execute orders for every variety of Letter-Press Printing; and he trusts he may safely point to the various works published by himself, during the last three years, as favourable specimens in that department; all these—the Cheap Oratorios, and other moveable music-type works, their covers, the large posting and other announcement bills, the "Musical Times," his catalogues, &c., having been the produce of his own press.

The unusual attention given at his Office to Moveable Music-types, and the beauty of the Music Founts, which belong exclusively to himself, secure to his patrons advantages in this particular branch which no other Printer can offer. His new Semi-Nonpareil Music-type is especially adapted for Thematique Catalogues or Indexes, from the boldness of its face and the smallness of the space it occupies.

Concert Announcements and Programmes are not only printed on the most reasonable terms, but J. A. N.'s establishment, as connected with music, offers particular facilities to concert givers. Specimens of Book-work, Color-printing, and the terms for every variety of Letter-press Printing, can be obtained at 69, Dean-street, Soho.

Handel, Beethoven, Mozart, Haydn, Graun, Schneider,

STERNDALÉ BENNETT's Suite de Pieces (Op. 24), calculated for advanced performers, dedicated to Mrs.
Anderson 6 0

The "Suite de Pieces" may, with advantage, be adopted as a sequel to the Six Studies. They consist of six movements, rather intended as studies for command of style and expression, than for any peculiar executive difficulties. They are exclusively meant for performers who can boast of very considerable fluency, and who have arrived at a certain point of facility of execution, without which it were loss of time to attempt them. As musical compositions, they rank among the most masterly of the author's works.

The Music and Psalter OF THE NATIONAL CHANT BOOK,

Dedicated (by permission) to THE WORSHIPFUL AND REVEREND GEORGE MARTIN, Canon of the Cathedral and Chancellor of the Diocese of Exeter,

BY JAMES INGHAM,

Lay Vicar of the Cathedral, Exeter.

The MUSIC part, in short score and beautifully printed on plate paper, will contain 124 Single Chants and 133 Double Chants, including those used in Exeter Cathedral; also 20 Single Chants, arranged from the Gregorian Tones; together with Doxologies, Sanctuses, Kyrie Eleesons, and Hymns; also (by particular desire) Hempel's beautiful Hymn to the 90th Psalm. The whole of the Chants are arranged to suit the Psalms appointed for each Morning and Evening of the Month, and will be found highly useful and instructive to Congregations and Choirs.

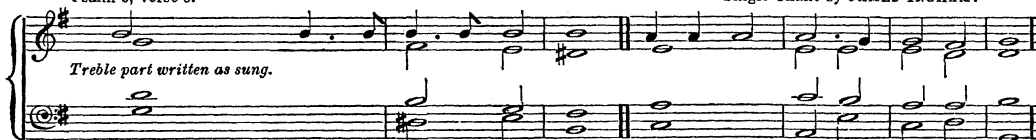

The LETTER-PRESS part will contain the Psalter, occasional Services, &c., marked and pointed in such a simple manner, that all difficulty in Chanting is entirely removed, and the system is rendered so easy that it may be understood even by the youngest member of a family. In the Margin, an ORGAN GUIDE is given for the direction of those persons who have not been in the habit of accompanying the whole of the Psalms.

The distinguished patronage bestowed on the large edition of the NATIONAL CHANT BOOK, by numerous Dignitaries of the Church, and upwards of 100 of the Parochial Clergy, together with the wishes expressed by a large number of admirers of the Cathedral Service, has induced the Author to place before the Public a small and cheap edition of the above work, to which he trusts the present will be found an useful companion.
